Parents & Godparents, here's what you need to know...

Parents

Catholic parents who want their child baptised, are reminded during the preparatory session the responsibilities of training their child in the practice of the faith, and bringing up their child in the way Christ. This includes:

- ❖ Telling the child about God who loves us, and about Jesus our friend;
- ❖ Teaching the child how to pray;
- ❖ Instilling Christian values in the child;
- ❖ Teaching the child how to be a good Christian, through example;
- ❖ Bringing the child to Church to pray at Mass, especially on Sundays and on days of obligation;
- ❖ Ensuring that the child receives a proper faith education.

Non-Catholic parents who give their consent for baptism do not need to do anything that is against their religion or personal beliefs. Nevertheless, they are invited:

- ❖ To be involved in the life of faith of their child;
- ❖ To be fully aware of the meaning and implication of baptism;
- ❖ To be open to discuss with their spouse any reservations / differences they may have, and to speak with the Church's minister if they wish.

Godparents

As Godparents, there are 2 important functions:

- ❖ They represent the Church into which the child is being baptised;
- ❖ They agree to assist and support the parents in the Catholic upbringing of the child, by word, action and good example.

The Godparents must be practising members of the Catholic Church, and over 16 years of age and having received the Sacrament of Confirmation.

The Church law only requires you to have one god parent; however, you may have more.

Godparents should be chosen with care. They should be a person who will be an example to your child of what it means to follow Jesus, and should fully understand and accept the responsibility that they are undertaking.

If a Godparent cannot attend the baptism ceremony, a proxy can stand in the place of the missing Godparent.
